

Direct. Internet. Connectivity. Yes, please.

Your residence is installing Midco[®] internet – meaning you'll have premium, industry-leading internet as an included amenity!

But first, we need to equip each apartment with a direct connection to our reliable network via state-of-the-art equipment – so everyone can start enjoying an instant, high-speed connection.

Thank you in advance for your patience and cooperation during our installation process. We look forward to serving you!

Installation Information

Date: {{Installation Date}}

Time: {{Installation Time}}

Midco representatives will be available at your leasing office from {{Time Open}} to {{Time Close}} during installation to answer questions.

Getting Connected

Each unit will have wall-mounted equipment with an Ethernet cord included. Residents can connect the Ethernet cord to a smart TV, gaming device or wireless router to start browsing.

Midco Guest Wi-Fi

If you have guests or need quick access to a network, your property comes with free, public Midco guest Wi-Fi. Remember that this network isn't fully secure compared to the in-unit connection – and it's sharing network bandwidth.

Questions & Answers

Why do we need to install equipment?

We use a specific type of equipment that is secured in each apartment unit – and will stay in the unit, even after you move out. Every unit requires new equipment. If you choose to upgrade to a wireless connection, you might have multiple pieces of equipment.¹

How does this affect current Midco services?

Internet Services

Going forward, current Midco internet customers with a higher tier internet service will continue to receive the same services – but will only pay the difference between that and the speed we’re now providing.

Internet Modems

The new system will replace any current Midco modems, as well as non-Midco modems. If someone has a leased modem from Midco, mail it to, or drop it off at, a Midco Customer Experience Center. Find us at Midco.com/Contact.

TV Services

If someone has other Midco services such as TV or TiVo[®] DVR, residents will continue to enjoy those services, but pricing may change – and current discounts might be affected.² We’ll adjust bills automatically.

Do my new services include Wi-Fi?

We are only installing a direct, wired connection via modem. If you want Wi-Fi, you can call our customer care team to upgrade to Midco Wi-Fi and only pay the $8 equipment fee per month.¹

Do residents need to be present during installation?

No. If someone isn’t home during installation, property managers will give our technician access to enter the unit.

How long will installation take?

Once the technician arrives, it should take 30-40 minutes to install an access point in each unit if the installation space is easily accessible. It may take Midco a few days to get all units installed and ready for services. Any current services shouldn’t be interrupted during this time.

What do I need to do before the installation?

We’ll install equipment using the existing wiring structure, so please move any personal items away from your cable outlet(s) – clearing the space as much as possible. Our technicians can work around furniture, as they are able. If there is an issue with the existing wiring or if we need to create a new wiring structure in your building, please be aware that the overall installation time may be extended.

What if residents aren’t current Midco customers?

Midco has made an agreement with the property owner to install internet in every apartment – and it’s now included in the monthly amenities. The same high-speed connection is available across the entire apartment building – no need for multiple networks.
